

Through the University of Houston's institutional membership, all faculty have access to the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity (NCFDD), which provides professional development, training and mentoring. The services are provided by highly trained and successful mentors that offer a confidential "safe space" for problem solving and can be accessed 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. It's all about learning the secrets to increasing your research productivity, getting control of your time, and living a full and healthy life.

NCFDD resources are broadly applicable across academic disciplines, academic perfectionism, how to develop a daily writing plan, how to write grant proposals, and more.
